Winter Construction's Interiors and Special Projects Group begins rebuilding office space for Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Atlanta

Renovation project includes complete demolition of three-and-a-half floors, total changeover of all mechanical and electrical systems, and re-creation of all interior architectural finishes

ATLANTA (September 7, 2010) – WinterSPACES, Winter Construction's Interiors and Special Projects Group, is rebuilding 85,000 square feet of office space in Smyrna, Ga., for the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Atlanta. Winter, which recently won and quickly commenced the project, is working closely with interior design firm Facilitec, engineering firm CDH Partners, and Catholic Constructions Services to completely gut and rebuild the space that will allow the organization to consolidate its office and archive at the Lake Park Drive location.

"We're honored to have the opportunity to complete this important project for the Archdiocese," said Winter President and CEO Brent Reid. "The challenge draws on Winter's renovation expertise and deep experience with both religious organizations and in corporate office environments."

The rebuilding project includes complete demolition of three-and-a-half floors, total changeover of all mechanical and electrical systems, and re-creation of all interior architectural finishes. It will be completed in phases to ensure that the employees currently working in 5,000 square feet of the space can continue to do so while the balance is re-built.

"WinterSPACES is well-positioned to deliver just this sort of combination of solutions with a high level of quality on schedule within limited financial resources," said WinterSPACES Manager Christian Jacobsen. "Our knowledge of and relationships with subcontractors is particularly crucial to WinterSPACES' ability to do so."

The project includes the installation of an FM-200 chemical fire suppression system for the archive space. Along with making the facility more energy efficient, The Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Atlanta thru WinterSPACES will divert 50 percent of the demolition and construction debris from landfills.
