Winter Construction Building New HQ in Chamblee

(September 13, 2019) ATLANTA, GA – General contractor Winter Construction has announced it is relocating from downtown Atlanta to a former industrial building in Chamblee, Georgia. Winter is at work renovating the building and expects to occupy its new headquarters in February of 2020.

Winter Construction is a leading general contractor in the Southeast and was recently named to the national Top 400 contractors list by Engineering News Record. “We are excited to be building our new HQ,” said Winter CEO Brent Reid. “We love doing adaptive re-use projects, and it’s great fun to create a space that suits us. We believe the Chamblee location will propel us into our next phase of growth.”

A joint venture between MidCity Real Estate Partners and Anchor Capital Partners acquired the 42,500 square-foot building in downtown Chamblee in August. “MidCity and Anchor have been great partners in our relocation,” Reid said.

Plans for the building renovation include reducing its footprint and creating more office space for tenants in addition to Winter. Winter will install all new base building features and new tenant interiors.

The building is located at the northeast corner of Peachtree Road and North Peachtree Road in downtown Chamblee. The location is one block from the planned Chamblee Town Center and a half-mile southwest of the Assembly Yards mixed-use project.
